Circuit Judge Kathryn D. Weston to be formally sworn in as judge

Circuit Judge Kathryn D. Weston, who won election last year as judge in the Seventh Judicial Circuit, will have her investiture on Friday, March 6, 2015.

The ceremony, during which she will receive her judicial robe and be formally sworn in, will take place 3:30 p.m. on March 6 at the Historic Volusia County Courthouse, 125 West New York Avenue, DeLand.

This is a judicial proceeding and the circuit judges will be sitting en banc, meaning with the full court participating.

Judge Weston was elected to the circuit bench. Her six-year term of office began January 6.

Judge Weston presides over a dependency division at the Volusia County Courthouse Annex at City Island in Daytona Beach.

A former police officer, Judge Weston earned her undergraduate degree in Accounting from Stetson University and her juris doctor with honors from the University of Notre Dame Law School. She became an attorney in 1998 and first practiced law in Chicago, where she litigated international tax cases. After returning home to Florida in 2004, she worked in private practice, focusing on commercial litigation and family law. Judge Weston is Board Certified by the Florida Bar in Business Litigation.
