Volusia County Court Judge Peter Marshall to retire in early 2013

DeLand – Volusia County Court Judge Peter Marshall has announced he will not seek re-election at the end of his term and will retire Jan. 7, 2013.

“I’d like to thank the citizens of Volusia County for allowing me to serve as a county judge all of these years,” Marshall said. “It has been an honor and privilege to hold this office.”

A jurist for 20 years, he was elected to the county court bench in 1993. During his career, Marshall was the administrative Volusia County court judge, president of Volusia County Mediation Services and a mentor for new judges. Outside of Volusia County, he’s been active with the Conference of County Court Judges of Florida and has served on several Supreme Court committees.

“We’ve been fortunate to have such a well-regarded judge like Peter Marshall serve on the Volusia County bench,” said Chief Judge William A. Parsons. “His intellect, experience and leadership will surely be missed.”

Marshall currently hears criminal cases at the Volusia County Courthouse in DeLand. His replacement will be elected since he is retiring at the end of his term.
